

PULASKI COUNTY LIBRARY SYSTEM

STRATEGIC PLAN

2017 – 2021

Background

Facilities

The Pulaski County Library System is composed of the Pulaski County Library which is a 9400 square foot facility located in the Town of Pulaski. Originally built in its present location in 1966, the building was expanded to include a Children's Room and Community Room in 1984. The Charles and Ona B. Free Memorial Library, which is located in the Town of Dublin is 3300 square feet and was built in 1990 to better serve the population in this expanding area of the county. The Library System serves a current population of 34,332 citizens. (2015)

Governance and Budget

The Board of Supervisors of Pulaski County appoints a nine member governing board made up of eight positions representing the various county districts and the Superintendent of Schools as an Ex Officio member. The Code of Virginia states that the Governing Board is "legally responsible for the control and management of the library and all that happens in it." (Virginia Public Library Trustee Handbook). The total annual budget for FY 2015/2016 was $646,808.39 from State Aid Funding and County Funds.

Collection and Circulation

The library is committed to serving the needs of all citizens. In order to do this effectively, the library strives to provide a balanced collection that includes print materials, non-print materials, and access to the Internet and electronic content. In FY2016, the total circulation for the Library System was 76,864 with 2.24 items circulating per capita. The total operating expenditures were $665,757 with $19.39 spent per capita. The Library System holdings in FY2016 were 44,998 print books, 83,452 downloadable E-Books, 94 periodical subscriptions, plus 73 current electronic periodical subscriptions, 10 databases, 1,824 audio books, 4,421 downloadable audio books, and 2,247 DVDs. Library visits for FY2016 were a total of 144,055 with 4.20 visits per capita and 8,496 registered borrowers.

Services

The library provides a range of services for adults, young adults, and children. These include a staff of skilled information specialists making reading recommendations for all ages, giving library tours and instruction and education, and offering programming for all ages, including book discussion groups, preschool story time, activities for children and teens, and one-on-one computer help. The library also offers wireless Internet access, public computer access, hold requests, interlibrary loans of materials not owned by this library system, online databases, and an Internet accessible library catalog, as well as FAXing, scanning, laminating, and copying/printing up to poster sized items.

Key Conclusions

1. The library will strive to be a destination within the community as well as a source for electronic content. This will entail striking a balance between those services that invite community members to visit the libraries' buildings and those services that may be used at a distance.
2. The library system will remain committed to providing customer-centered and knowledgeable staff members who can meet the service needs of the community.
3. The library will maximize the use of the collection by making new and returned materials available in a timely manner, and use multiple means to tailor the collection to the community including providing materials in paper, audio-visual, and electronic formats.
4. The library will continue a broad range of services for youth and teens, as well as endeavor to provide programs and services that address their changing informational needs.
5. The library will strive to offer new technologies selected to meet changing needs, offer information, ideas and inspiration in convenient formats, and allow uniform access. The system will also continue to pursue technological solutions that will allow a greater number of citizens to use library resources remotely.
6. The library will analyze the space necessary to provide library services to the community and seek long-term solutions to the need for additional space.
7. The library will seek community partnerships and collaborative projects.
8. The library will continue its presence at community events and at other outreach locations.
