

The novel "New Moon" by Stephenie Meyer is wonderful narrative that includes romance, adventure, and those fantasies that kept you up at night when you were a child. This book is a sequel to "Twilight" where a high school girl named Bella falls in love with a vampire named Edward Cullen. Bella is now a senior and the thing that she wants more than anything is to be just like Edward. When a horrible accident happens that makes Edward feel like he has to leave Bella is left heartbroken. Her friend Jacob Black helps her out of this slump only for her to find that he is also a part of the fantasy world. One day when Bella is as close to normal as possible one of her vampire friends visits and turns everything upside down again. My favorite part of this book is when Bella is learning how to ride a motorcycle with Jacob. I liked it because I felt like it was something I would do.
